

Give it a Spin!

Go ahead, walk around in circles.
It's good for the building.

A revolving door maintains a constant air seal,
keeping inside air in and outside air out.
Only one-eighth of the energy lost through a traditional door is lost through a revolving door.

For more information, visit oa.mo.gov/fmdc/bit

Another B.I.T. of energy saving information from

Brought to you by the Division of Energy and the Office of Administration