Whether you worked on the front lines or behind the scenes – whether you worked in a facility or worked remotely from home – you made a difference.

You worked together to problem solve, fight the infection, and get our economy heading in the right direction.

Our state has been through tough times before. The days ahead will be challenging, but we will get through this challenge by working together for a better future.

I am proud to lead this great team. Thank you for everything you do to make Missouri the best state in the country.

Sincerely,

Governor Mike Parson
