1a. What strategic priority does this program address?

Build and engage resources to support families in need

1b. What does this program do?

The Department of Social Services, Family Support Division is partnering with the University of Missouri to provide SNAP Education to low income eligible Missourians where they live and work, with the goal of teaching participants to make healthy choices and improve food resources.

The SNAP-Ed (Food Nutrition) Program provides educational information about nutrition, physical activity, food safety and food budgeting to SNAP eligible individuals, especially to households with children in the home, at-risk pregnant and parenting teens, youth, and seniors through multiple approaches. Focus on changing behaviors to increase vegetable and fruit consumption, such as gardening and purchasing fresh produce at farmers markets, is included in the education provided throughout the state. The goal of the program is to teach participants how to make behavior changes and improve food resource management to achieve lifelong health and fitness, and reduce obesity.

Currently, the Department of Social Services partners with the University of Missouri to deliver education to targeted SNAP participants and eligible individuals. This appropriation is used to pay the salaries, benefits, expenses, and equipment for over 158 University of Missouri Extension employees who implement the Food Nutrition Program by providing education regarding nutrition to low-income Missourians. These positions fill various roles to deliver nutrition, health, and physical activity education throughout Missouri where SNAP recipients and eligible individuals live and work. There are over 13,000 agency personnel and University faculty and staff who also contribute to the SNAP-Ed program.

Program Name: SNAP Outreach

Program is found in the following core budget(s): Food Nutrition

1a. What strategic priority does this program address?

Build and engage community resources to support families in need

1b. What does this program do?

The Department of Social Services, Family Support Division partners with the University of Missouri and the Missouri Food Bank Association to help low-income Missourians obtain resources to buy food and understand the nutritional benefits available from SNAP with assistance from local resources.

SNAP Outreach helps low-income people buy the food that they need for good health, including fruits, vegetables and whole grains. FSD works with local agencies, advocates, employers, community and faith-based organizations, and others to conduct outreach to eligible low-income individuals who are not currently participating in SNAP, and shares information about the nutrition benefits available from SNAP to help them make informed decisions.

2a. Provide an activity measure(s) for the program.

Measure and goals provided by the Missouri Food Banks Association as well as the University of Missouri. FFY 2020 data will be available in March 2021.
